PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

To the Class of 1975,

During the year we have seen our country pass through bad and oppressing times and come through smiling. With this I hope that when we have our troubles that we also can smile and keep going. Our class has seen at times talent unsurpassed by any other group of people. I trust that when we are on our own we can put these talents to good use. It's the end but merely the beginning for most of us. The times have changed and the times have changed us, let us go with the times and not expect the times to go with us. Go placidly amid the noise and silence. I wish to express my deepest appreciation to Julie Larson and the other class officers who have worked hard and sacrificed when others wouldn't. This is the attitude that we all must have when we leave, and I trust we will. I extend my congratulations and thanks to the Class of 1975 and wish you the best of luck in anything you do.

Sincerely,

Sam Ford

Mr. Malcolm Doble came to Brewer High School in the fall of 1974. He was born and brought up in Milo, Maine, where he attended Milo High School and later graduated from the University of Maine at Orono.

Before coming to Brewer, Mr. Doble held the position of principal in LaGrange, Stonington, Bridgton, Yarmouth, and Rockland; leaving Rockland last year to assume his duties here at Brewer.

Mr. Doble enjoys fishing and golf in his spare time, and with his wife, Marilyn, shares the interests of four children.

A MESSAGE FROM MR. DOBLE

I would like to thank the staff of the Witchcraft for making this space available to say a few words to the graduating seniors.

It is my wish that all of you have a long and productive adult life and that this will be conducive to much personal happiness on your part.

Although jobs are hard to find, it is my observation that they can be found for those who have prepared themselves and have a willingness and desire to do a good job. If you do not have the tools necessary to do the job you wish, I hope that you will seek additional education so that you can have the kind of working life you want. Whether you go to work, go to a post secondary vocational school or a four year college, I hope that you will pursue excellence in your work. It seems to me that one of the bigger needs of society today are individuals who are committed to doing their job in life to the best of their ability.

We hear much about the physical pollution of our environment and the need to clean it up. Millions are being spent in this endeavor. The biggest pollutant in the world today is not physical but mental. It is in my opinion, the attitude that each individual is entitled to "do his thing" regardless of the unhappiness that it may cause others around him. It is my wish that the Class of 1975 can clean up some of this type of pollution in the years to come by living a satisfying and personally gratifying life but not at the expense of others. This type of pollution clean up costs nothing and produces great rewards.

We here at Brewer High School hope that you will return if you need help in the future. We will do our best to help you. Good luck in the years to come.

Malcolm G. Doble

A TRIBUTE TO LEE V. HALLOWELL

The staff of this paper on behalf of the Class of 1975 would like to extend their warm admiration and sincere gratitude to our Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Lee V. Hollowell. After more than thirty-five years devoted to the field of education, Mr. Hollowell will retire from his active career this year.

Mr. Hollowell is a native of Edmunds, Maine, a small community downeast in Washington County for which he has a strong affection. He and Mrs. Hollowell have a summer place where Mr. Hollowell plans to spend a portion of his retirement fishing in the trout brooks or going deep sea fishing, doing gardening and perhaps a little sketching or painting of which he has a hidden talent.

After graduation from Machias Normal School, now the University of Maine at Machias, Mr. Hollowell continued his studies at Boston University from which he received his B. Ed. degree in 1939. Before World War II began, he was principal of an elementary school in Reedfield, later at Stewartstown, N. H., and then at Brooklyn and Southbury, Connecticut. The war interrupted his teaching career for three years during which he served in the U.S. Navy. In 1947 Mr. Hollowell received his Master's Degree in Education from the University of Maine. Shortly after his discharge he accepted a position as principal of the Hanibal Hamlin School in Bangor where he was administrator for two years and then he was transferred to the Fifth Street Junior High where he served until 1959. In the latter year he became Superintendent of Schools in Brewer where he has spent the past sixteen years as Superintendent of the Brewer school system.

Congratulations and may a "New Day Be Dawning" for both you and Mrs. Hollowell in the years ahead.

20 YEARS FROM TODAY

Hello, ladies and gentlemen; this is your photojournalist, Tom Morelli, reporting on the class of 1975, here in 1995. I am taking a tour of the United States in order to visit all the class members and to see just what they are doing.

As I board the Greyhound Bus, I say hello to the driver, Bill Masters, who has had many experiences in the business. There are few passengers, but the ones I talk to are quite friendly. There in the front seat is the famous couple, Dan Dexter and Ruth Williams, both on their way to NASA. They will be the first couple on Mars. And there's Jack Kilby. He just got back from Carroll's; he stole the Easter bunny there for the 19th consecutive time. A few seats back sit Ken Michaud and his wife Rhonda (Brown). Ken is an accountant at "Michaud & Sons Inc."

I get off the bus at a rock concert in Boston and some group called "Trash" is playing. On stage, Junior, I mean Dave Groves, Kevin O'Connell, George Crabtree, and Grayln Ogilvie are driving the crowd wild. Rock 'n Roll!! In the crowd I see Tex Harlow, Dean Churchill, Bill Kilby, Sean Grover, Steve Quimby, and Don Corey, (milkman) who gives me a hearty "REEE!!" What Memories! Dennis Payson is up in the corner and he drowns out the group with a resounding "PORKY!"

I get back on the bus and see Ed Oechsle asleep. I wake him up and he says that he is, of course, on his way to Bar Harbor. The bus passes a store which has a large sign--"Hanscom's Hardware" which Ken Hanscom owns. I am in New Hampshire now, near Tom Howard's camp. I enter the camp and sure enough I can see the men from the Brewer High Band, Brian Bishop and Tom Howard. On the way out, I see three more former members: Don Robbins, a forest ranger; Les Swartz a nuclear physicist and grill-man; and Joe DiSalvatore, the conductor of the Boston Pops.

Passing my bus like a streak of lightning was Henry Lawler and his wife Marty Martin in a Grand Prix racer. Uncle Paul Travis is up in the back of the bus, telling stories just like the good old days. I can see out the window a small establishment called: "Blodgett's Ice Cream Shop". I knew Jeff B. was going to make it. Probably because Jeff Ellis, my lawyer, wrote "Mr. B" all those notes in Math. Speaking of Jeff Ellis, he finally has gotten around to asking out the eligible Sandy Caron, a sex-education teacher. Liisa Hamilton boards the bus in New York and tells me that her massage parlor at Green Lake is doing fine.

I find out from Bill the bus driver that we have several Brewer High School people representing us in the United States Government. Senators, (besides Paula) are: Tim Achorn, Rodney Connors, Greg Hamilton, Mark Eldridge, Elizabeth Byard, Jewell Caron, Scott Dexter, and Mary Brown.

Using her own great experience, Kathy Szylvian has opened a chain of restaurants called "Szylvian's Sizzleburgers". Brent Theriault is an electrical engineer and Quentin Mommelaar is a shoe salesman. Bob Mouradian is a doctor, Bruce Morneault is a shoe salesman, and Kathy Houston is a clerk at Freese's. Chip McKenny is a jockey.

Working on the construction of the new two-mile high building is the crew of Frank Betts, Steve Grant, Linda Laughlin, James Pearson, Ralph Thorn, Thomas Sims, Bruce Shaw, Edgar Senter, Jeff Seeley, Dave Kane and Scott Robertson. Steve Gatchell is a famous solo violinist with Sue Pushard as his back-up musician. Kerry Estabrook is an apple-grower in Winterport. Mike Parker is a physics teacher, with Sue Parker an organizer of parties at Orono. There's the third Parker, Steve, throwing eggs at Bangor High School. Laurel Sullivan sells cars, Janet McClay is a shoe salesman, Leonard Ford isn't available for comment, and Robert Ryan makes watches. Shelly Lancaster is married to Paul, (the cigar salesman) Lori Grover is a hockey pro, and Jay Savoy is a movie star.

Marco Woods makes furniture, Roberta York is an artist and Aimee Leach is a softball catcher. Tanya Bickford is a pole-vaulter, Jeff Butterfield owns a dairy, Tim Hogan owns a carwash, and Roseanne Houston owns a flower shop.

Lorita Gray is an orthodontist, Denise Bosse' is the precisionnaire chaperone, Dale Hurd is a radio announcer and Carla Foss is the boss of a newspaper. Wayne Robichaud and Steve Gray are in the baker business, Charles Randall is an acrobatic performer in the Barnum and Bailey Circus, and Beverly Wilson owns a girdle manufacturing company. Kevin Faloon plays professional broomball, Rhonda Cameron makes lingerie, Mike White and Morton Frye are basketball coaches.

Bill French makes french fries, Randy Sawyer is the president of a cheese factory, and Carol Eastman makes film. Michael McKay is a Latin Major in college, Bill Nichols is a student teacher, George Nelson is a barber, Andrew Bowden is a pencil-lead manufacturer, and Pat Clark is a used-car salesman. Leslie Buehler is a chemist, Diane Fox makes fur coats, Bruce Fowler is a tenor in the Metropolitan Opera. Debra Doughty is a model, and Richard Simpson is an astronaut.

I see many cars heading towards a football stadium. It is the Superbowl. In the crowd I see one of the most dedicated class members James Beers. Serving Bonanza Steaks at the refreshment stand is Michael Cuskelly. The old precisionnaires of Brewer High have gathered once again as: Cheryl Derau, Bev Hobbs, Lynn Dunning, Julie Larsor (now the head waitress at Jed Prouty's) and Mary Cuskelly (with whom I often taught Sunday School) get off the bus.

After the game, I go into a nearby drugstore for a soda and I see Linda Forsing, the head Pharmacist. Why does she have cymbals mounted beside her diploma? I pick up a newspaper and see a story about a good friend of mine; the headline reads, "Senator Paula Cormier Receives Nobel Prize." Also on the bottom of the front page I see a large photograph taken by Bruce Theriault, a professional photographer. It is a picture of Bruce Niles, the note-worthy astronomer. I see on the sports page that Jane Peasley is still playing for the Red Sox, even though she owns a chain of gas stations. I walk outside and see Dan Morgan, a full-time typist and secretary for Footman's Dairy, drive by in a blue-green Rambler. Up the street is a beauty-salon, and a large display reading: "Coiffures by Leonard". It must be Judy Leonard's shop.

I see more band members such as Diane Scribner, Brenda Duffy, Patty Stevens (the new city manager), Holly Burns, and Beth Hatch. They have joined together to make a chorus, which will travel nationwide. Steve Nickless drives by in his Chevy that he built from scratch, with Jeff Kingsbury, a policeman, and the two Faulkingham brothers, Peter and Paul, cigar salesmen.

Kevin Spain is the president of a brass-plated doorknob factory. I can see his large factory off to the right. Next door is the Ledwig Drum Company headquarters, with Pete Hilyard, president.

As we travel around this country we make a short visit at the Federal Reserve Bank which Mark Foley is president of. His numerous secretaries include Debbie Hamilton, Brenda MacLeod, and Kathy Bishop. The people running the computers and counting money are Diane Scribner and Cindy DeBeck. Of course the head teller at the bank is Terry Fago. The travel course now heads us South to Florida where we see JoAnne Evans and Barbara Wood still getting a tan. Kathy Wood and Gayle Wood work at Disneyworld. What they're doing we're not going to tell. If you get too bad a sunburn at Florida, you can always go to the head nurse at Fort Lauderdale, Jan Willis. Well, it's time to leave the sun and see what some of our classmates are doing up North in Maine. Well look, there is Tom Buckley playing hockey for the Boston Bruins. Jackie Corbett and Terry Grant are out snowmobiling at Lucerne Lake. We happened to drive by old Brewer High and out in the yard was Vaughn Knowles, Bob Murphy and Keith Drew still running sprints in their gym shorts. A little more flabby, I must say. Leslie Luke teaches English now for all our children. Mary Parlee and Patty Norton just rode by bombing around as usual. Darrell Pluard is now head janitor at the high school. Kim Thompson and Judy Ogilvie did so well in Home Economics they now teach their own sewing course. Giselle McGinn and Linda Giles are still in Chemistry trying to find their last unknown. Laurie Neill is still punching keys at Sampson's. Martha's Maines now has her Master's Degree. We're all very proud of her.

Ms. Jackie McCormack is now an accountant for Sharon Wadsworth's multi-billion dollar Art School. Did you know Julie Larson is now head cook at Jed Prouty's? Kathy Donovan is now the chief of police for Brewer, a step forward for womanhood we feel. Paula Gilleland will x-ray any bones that you want looked at. Cindy Dougherty has received the Golden Toothbrush Award for her outstanding dental hygienist work. Susie Plummer is teaching our children now, what they are learning, we're not sure of.

Bill Haskell is up for the presidential nomination in 1996. He has a personal secretary, Jill Willis. Also campaigning are Carol Grant, Sharon Dall, and Jeff Brooks.

The bus conks out in front of a large service station and who rushes out to repair the engine but Marvin McLeod, Duncan Steeves, and Brian Melvin. Meanwhile, I meander across the street and see a TV repair shop, with a neon sign flashing "Harvey Burn's Electrical Shop". On a nearby turned-on television I see Vicki Morin twirling her way into the hearts of millions. Down the street I find Andy Hardy on a ladder painting the side of a building. Jeff Paine is helping.

The bus is fixed and we're on our way. On the left I see a golf course, and playing in the pro tournament is Dale Trask. Michelle Wood is in the Pro Shop, signing people up for her winter ski instruction courses. Martha Maines is on the tennis court, giving tennis lessons.

In phoenix, Arizona, the bus passes a manufacturing plant owned by Greg Ouellette. It is an elevator-shoe company. His accountant is John Baughman. Dick Thompson is in the interesting vocation of bongo-drum manufacture. And the best goes on. Chuck Somers is a hat manufacturer.

Detective Debbie Dyer is married to Larry Sucy, a brush salesman. Rick St. Louis is riding around in a green Maverick. Danny Clark is a plumber.

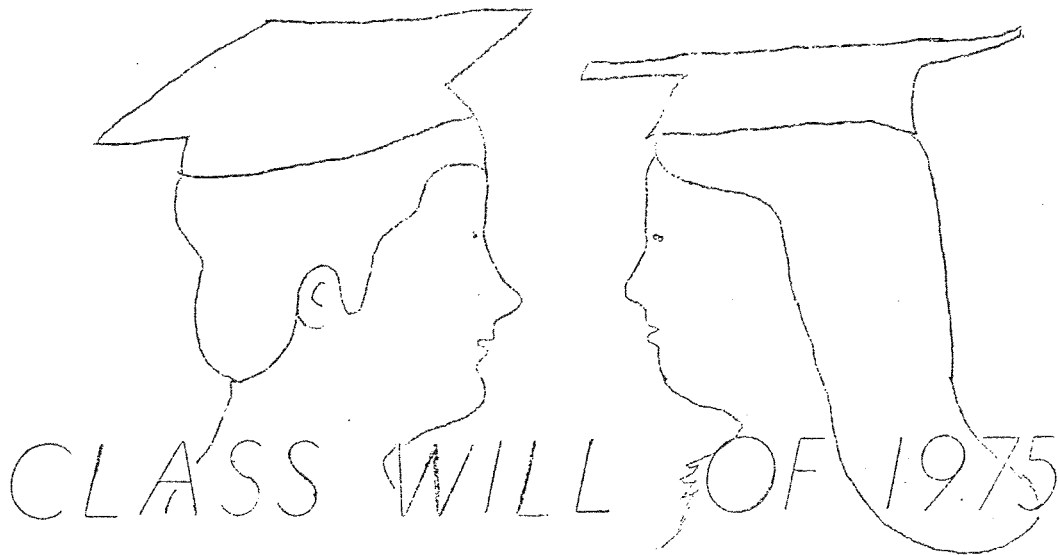

Through the grapevine I have heard that Michele Applebee is alive and well in Brewer, Maine. Dale Achorn is a pit man at the Indianapolis 500. Doug Bean is working in a recording studio. Carol Brown is a jockey. Randy Sawyer is president of McDonalds. Sue Richards is a veterinarian. (How's your dog, Sue?) Stella Patterson is a swing-manager at Carroll's, with Laurie Jack and her husband, Rick Dunton owning the place. Nancy Peters won the Miss Universe Contest. Debbie Sealy is a psychiatrist, helping many people. Gone overseas and so South America are James Goody, Mike Lamson, Arthur and Richard Peabody, and Ronald Bowden to help in the Peace Corps and Care projects. Rick Brooks is the head driver of his own undertaking parlour at Kennebunk Beach--business is kind of dead in the winter!

The first U.S. moon colony is proceeding with volunteers Sue Lachance, Kevin Daigle, Mike Brooks, Dianna Benner, Terri Crosby, Brenda Knowles, Tena Staples, Irving Joy, Victoria Gray, Debora Eacmen and Darroll Hoover, all doing well. Robin Smith is the president of LaVerdiere's. Colleen Betts is now the President of Penobscot Savings Bank with Wendy James and Kim Strang as her executive secretaries. Debbie Benner and Arlene Stewart have opened their own Convalescent Home called "Aging Acres." Mr. Rogers, Mr. Huber, Mrs. Boivin, along with Mr. Vickery, are being carefully taken care of.

And, so, ladies and gentlemen, that about wraps it up. If I've missed or forgotten anyone, I'm sincerely sorry. And by the way, if you're ever around my area, drop in and have a pizza "on the house" at "MORELLI'S MATSA MUSH." Many thanks to Candy Withee. So long!

Tom Morelli '75

GRADUATION IS:

The ending of one stage of life--but the beginning of another.
A new beginning for us.
The forerunner of several days of drunken brawling.
Boring... But later on...
A celebration of responsibility.
Most fun I ever had.
Relief!
The beginning of your life.
Happiness!
The end of the beginning.
June 8. Hurrah!
A real crusher.
A senior party.
Something I hope to experience this year!
Just great!
A banana peel on the stairway to heaven.
Freedom.
The beginning of summer.
The best time of the high school years.
Saying good-bye without wanting to.
What we've looked forward to for years.
An answered prayer.
The end of a long, tedious, and memorable road.
A day to remember.
Only rock and roll, but I like it.
Never too soon.
Pay day.
A fantastic beginning and a sad ending.
A once in a lifetime ordeal.
Dynamite!
The happiest day of my life.
Success!
Leaving good friends behind and meeting new ones.
Beautiful!
The end of childhood and the beginning of life.
The time to be happy to get out of the place you've hated so and the time to be sad because you realize that you didn't really hate it like you thought you did.
Wanting to leave school but not wanting to leave your friends.
What we've been waiting for for the past four years
The end of a long, tedious, and memorable road.
A nice feeling after twelve years of school.
Looking forward to what's ahead.
The point in our lives when we've got to think of who we are and what we will be and do.
The opening of a door, to a new phase in life.
A time when we look ahead at things to come, and wonder what we'll run up against.
One of the biggest steps toward meeting the real world.

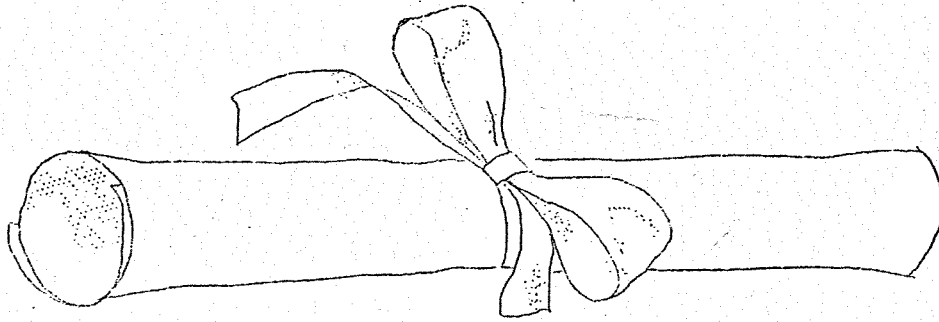

aspiration

You can be prince instead of page,

For as we dream, we are;

Look up and claim your heritage,

Reach up and grasp a star!

QUEST

Follow the sun as the dawn appears
From past to present through future years,
With joyful step and chin held high,
Down paths as straight as the crow can fly!

Follow the moon that bathes the night
In silver incandescent light,
Through myrtle groves and up the hill,
Because you are a dreamer still.

Follow the stars that fill the sky;
Look not back nor question why;
Hope is a ladder leading to
The brightest one reserved for you!

North or south or east or west,
He travels lightest, travels best,
Whose love enriches every part
Of life by following the heart!
